bodice of yellow mousseline de sole trimmed with black lace butterfiles and black velvet ribbon. Her corsage bouquet was of English violets. Mrs. Pieronnet was in blue organdle over white silk, a yoke and sleeves of shirred white chiffon and a large bouquet of American Beauty roses completing the airy frock. Assisting in entertaining were:

Miss Lulu Flisher,
Palms and ferns were in every room, and in the drawing room yellow and white chrysanthemums bloomed amid the green. The library was done in bridesmaid roses, as was the dining room, where the table stood beneath a canopy formed of garlands of smilax, a handsome cut glass rose bowl filled to overflowing with pink roses occupying its center, while other roses and ferns lay here and there on its polished surface. An orchestra, stationed behind a screen of paims in the hall, furnished music during the afternoon.

Two hundred and fifty invitations were sent out, and throughout the receiving hours, from 2 until 5 o'clock, an uninterrupted stream of guests flowed through the pretty apartments.

pretty apartments.

Mrs. Fred Huttig gave on Wednesday the last and loveliest of three beautiful functions arranged in compliment to her guest, Mrs. Cora Fairchild Gaines, of Tex as. The Wednesday event was an afternoon tea. Mrs. Huttig's home is exceptionally beautiful in itself and needs little adorning for the most elaborate entertaining. Yet the choicest blossoms and the finest paims were in every room. The orchestra in the hall was screened by a thicket of palms and white chrysanthemums and roses covered the mantel. American Beauty roses were in the drawing room, Marechal Niels in the library, while in the sitting room was a bower of pink carnations and smilax, of which the background was formed by a large mirror. Misa Qarkener occupied the pretty bower and served ices from a table dressed with carnations. The charming scene was lighted with pink tapers.

Pink was also the prevailing tint in the diningroom where pink roses illed a large bowl in the center of the table and were strewn over the surface, where embroidered pink roses bloomed on the snowy linen. Pink tapers were used for lighting and the serving was done by Miss Mal Hinkle and Miss Mary Peak, assisted by Mrs. Barton and Mrs. Allen. Mrs. Huttig's assisting women included:

Mrs. Hugh McEiroy, Mrs. James Barton, Mrs. Hugh McEiroy, Mrs. James Barton, Mrs. John R. Walker, Mrs. Harry Cronin.

ation in gray chiffon over white satin, with irldescent trimming. Mrs. James T. Holmes, who received with her daughter, was gowned in black silk velled with black net covered with jet paillettes, and relieved by touches of turquoise velvet.

Mrs. T. J. Gillespie, Mr. E. K. Chafee and Mr. Waither were the soloists at the musicale given yesterday by Mrs. Ewing Hall and Mrs. Allen Logan, and Mrs. White was the accompanist. Seventy-five guests were asked and the house was decorated with American Beauty roses.

Miss Martha Page Brent gave a box party at the Auditorium yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Katherine Calloway, of Mexico, Mo. Mrs. Kelly Brent chaperoned the young people, who were:

Miss Calloway,
Miss Floy Bridgeford,
Miss Angeline Munger,
Miss Gladys Jones,
Miss Lila Cheaney,
Miss Nita Reeder,
Miss Louse Griffith.

Miss Louise Griffith,

The marriage of Miss Lillian Johnson to Mr. Benjamin C. Moore, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore, took place Tuesday, December 5, at 5 p. m., in the First Cumberland Presbyterian church. The church was decorated with palms. Miss Harriet Barse played the Lohengrin wedding march, which was preceded by a violin solo by Miss Pet Lyle and a song, "For Eternity," by Miss Dorothy Lyle. Rev. Mr. E. N. Allen, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore gave a reception for the bridal party and near relatives in the evening. The house was handsomely decorated with cut flowers and palms. Mr. and Mrs. Moore left at 9 o'clock for Galveston. They will visit various Southern points before returning.

Mrs. John M. Phillips, who went as delegate from the Kansas City chapter of the U. D. C. to the national convention at Richmond, Va., returned on Friday morning, and on the same evening was most agreeably surprised by a large number of the members of the local chapter, who called to welcome her home. The evening was all too short to recount the incidents and pleasures of the trip, but Mrs. Phillips brought back such a report as served to increase the enthusiasm of the local to increase the enthusiasm of the local members and make them resolve to re-double their efforts to raise the funds necessary to erect the monument to the memory of the ex-Confederates buried in Forest Hill cemetery.

After the ceremony and reception a wedding supper was served to about seventy-five guests. Mrs. George P. Ashton, of Topeka, gave several very enjoyable vocal selections during the evening, and the wedding march was played by Mrs. Blanche O. Schilling, an intimate friend of the bride's femily.

Schilling, an intimate friend of the bride's family.

The bride was very becomingly gowned in white organdle, with Valenciennes lace bodice, and diamond ornaments. She carried a large bouquet of bride roses, and wore a flowing white veil. The maid of honor, a former schoolmate of the bride, wore also a white organdle over pink silk, with lace bodice. Among the laddes serving in the dining room and parlors were Miss Lucile Edwords, Miss Minnewa Shoemaker and Miss Sadle Whitney, each gowned in white over blue. Miss Gertrude Jordan and Miss Alma Krauthoff served the ices and coffee, assisted by Miss Emily Taliaferro and Miss Marie Uebelmesser. Mr. and Mrs. Metzier departed on a late train for a brief Eastern journey, and will be at home after January 1 in Pueblo.

In Pueblo.

Mrs. George H. Gray, of 1836 Kensington avenue, entertained Saturday afternoon the W. P. R. C. and other friends, the occasion being the 18th birthday anniversary of her daughter, Titine. Mrs. Gray and her daughter, assisted by Mrs. S. D. Bowker, Mrs. M. D. Wood and Miss Munroe, welcomed the guests in the parior.

Chocolate was served in the library by Miss Pearl Bradley and Miss Mabel Wood. The serving in the dining room was done by Mrs. Olive Hofmaster, assisted by Miss Ina Evershed and Miss Munroe. Coffee was poured by Mrs. M. D. Wood, Miss Wood and Miss Bradley. The dining table was beautifully decorated with white chrysanthemums and smilax. In the drawing contest, which was a feature of the afternoon, prizes were won by Mrs. J. C. Greenman and Mrs. Will Anderson. Those present were:

R. B. Parley,

Miss Edna Rogera,
Miss Effie Payne,
Miss Harriet Parley,
Miss Minnie Hildebrand,
Miss Sina Evershed,
Miss Ella McKinzie,
Miss Pearl Bradley,
Miss Ellise Evershed,

man and Mr. Mose Thomas. The house was decorated with palms, roses, chrysanthemums and ferns. Rev. Father Phelan performed the ceremony at high noon. The attendants were Miss Daisy Clark and Mr. Theodore Thomas. The bride wore a gown of brown cloth with hat and gloves to match, and carried bride roses. Miss Clark was in blue cloth with toque to match, and carried an arm bouquet of bridesmaid roses. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas left the same afternoon for Las Vegas, N. M., where they will reside.

M., where they will reside.

A very enjoyable event of the past week was the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Gulley at their home, 435 East Ruby avenue, Argentine, on Wednesday afternoon and evening. The occasion celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage and every detail of the affair was most happily planned. Artistic decorations, subdued lights, delightful music, cards and games served to make the evening memorable. The hall was decorated in red, while the parlor was in white and green. Broad white satin ribbons festooned the celling from the center was suspended a wedding from the center was suspended a wedding bell of white roses and smilax. The curtains and doorways were also draped with smilax and white ribbons.

The second parlor was arranged in blue, while the library was a bower of yellow sense the canopy of yellow ribbons and ferns Miss Marguerite Bankhead served punch. In the dining room the patriotic colors, red, white and blue, predominated. Ribbon streamers of the three colors extended from the chandclier to the four corners of the table and were finished with bows. The favors were silver bells attached to cards bearing the date. Mr. and Mrs. Gulley were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, among them a silver-headed ebony cane from far-off Manila. Those present were:
